VENOM LINES 905

At Tea-At-Sea last Sunday, who were the 9 guys who were hanging out with the tall blond girl on the back of the boat, they seemed to be the life of the party.

With fewer people going out these days, I guess it's time to go back to Target to cruise men.

Can someone please tell me what the cover policy is at the Coliseum on Saturday nights...you never know when to go to get in for free...it's different every week.

To all the Chicken going to the clubs and bars these days... Please leave all your fag-hag friends at home, they take up too much space.

Why can't all the clubs play music like the Sea Monster does on Sunday nights. It's the best in town and that Techno stuff is getting real old.

Why does it seem like all the queens are moving to Fort Lauderdale and the butch men are leave, can we close the boarders to the city.

Hey all you gay men moving here from Atlanta...this ain't Tara, it's South New York so stop trying to force that southern' gentility on us.

Bald and Black at Wansiki Foundation: Pull your head out of your journal and leave the glass pipe alone. How can you help others when can't seem to help yourself. POZ in Ft Lauderdale

John Stanley-
Like a piece of soap that's too small to use but too big to throw away, I kept you around. But what was I thinking? I mean, for starters, your ego is so big you need a GPS system to find it. And every time you undressed, I swear I heard an automated laugh track. And your romantic flame? It was more like a fluorescent light struggling to come to life. So, Adios. Thanks for playing; you've been a lovely guest. Be sure to grab your parting gifts on the way out. Guido Miss Thing with your glass of red wine! I see you spilling that swill all the time maybe they need to give you a sippy cup for that.

O.K. Jay Lynch A.K.A Miss Beasley, I know you're not an English scholar but you may want to upgrade your apple computer. They now have this new feature on modern computers called "spell check". FYI this is how you spell Coliseum!!

HELL IS BEAUTIFUL
No matter how much you hate me Bottom Boy David, I will still always love you- so if you could only learn to love yourself and see you created the world you lived in by each and every choice you've made every day and take responsibility for those choices, you would grow immeasurably & meaningfully.

Hey Tim! When you asked and I said you were great in bed ... well, I LIED!! It was like having sex with a corpse (actually, a corpse might even move more!) I'm glad we broke up!
- Happy to Be Your Ex!!

Michael: You cheated on me and now I found out that you cheated on your last boyfriend too. Don't think I won't do whatever I can to let everyone know how dishonest you are Love J

THOMAS You might actually be sexy ... if you could do something about bathing once in a while You always smell so rank! And don't think your chain smoking covers up your B.O. Are you allergic to soap and water? What's the deal??
